Elk Point Ukrainian Dance Club hosts Holy Supper

REVELLING IN TRADITION — These young Ukrainian Dance Club members eagerly search through the hay under the festive table for their treats.

Members of Elk Point Ukrainian Dance Club, along with their families and a number of special guests, gathered last Wednesday evening to take part in a traditional Holy Supper, in celebration of the Ukrainian Christmas season.

Following the mouthwatering meal, which included both the 12 traditional meatless dishes and a selection of other foods and desserts, Reverend Hohol explained the significance of the feast.

Throughout Christmas Eve day, Hohol said, a mood of good fortune, hope for the future, and peace is set. In the old days, 12 logs were dried for 12 days before being used to cook the 12 traditional dishes, which were much enjoyed by those who had fasted throughout the day, waiting for the appearance of the first star of the evening.

Preparations for the feast also included placing a sheaf of wheat, symbol of both riches and the family's ancestors, in a special corner near the religious icons. Hay or straw placed under the family table reminded the family of the stable where the baby Jesus was born, while more hay placed under the tablecloth was a symbol of the manger, the tablecloth itself a symbol of the Holy Infant's swaddling clothes. Treats were traditionally hidden in the hay under the table, for the children to find after the meal, when they would make animal noises in remembrance of the stable animals.

Centrepiece on the table would be a 3-high stack of kolache, the braided loaves of bread, a symbol of the trinity, their circular shape a symbol of eternity, while a candle placed in the middle of the loaves reminded all that Jesus said, "I am the Light of the world."

Food for the feast included kutia, a dish made from boiled wheat, a symbol of life, sweetened with honey, a symbol of heaven. No animal products were used in the preparation of the feasts of long ago, but Hohol says that is not necessarily so today. Some food from the feast was always shared with the animals, he added. Guests were often welcomed to join the family for the meal, as a stranger in the Chamber guests confirmed

Chamber Vice President Gordon Le Drew, who made the announcement, said that the meeting will focus on health care in Elk Point and district.

A question-and-answer session is on the agenda. The public is invited to attend the meeting, scheduled for 12:00 noon in the Empress Restaurant's banquet room.

Town Council deals with lengthy agenda

Elk Point Town Council made short work of a long and varied agenda at Monday's regular meeting.

Bylaws officially appointing Bernie Nelson as Bylaw Enforcement Officer and Ron Fraess as Building Inspector were approved on all three readings, while Pat Vincent was appointed as Development Officer by resolution of Council. A suggestion that the duties of Disaster Services Director be combined with the Bylaw Enforcement Officer's position was tabled, but it was noted that this would be a good long-term objective.

Council expressed an interest in a proposed municipal needs assessment program offered by the Planning Services Branch of Alberta Municipal Affairs, and indicated they would be willing to host a workshop on the program.

Two members of the Recreation Board, along with Recreation Assistant Gail Kozicky, will attend the Energize '88 conference in Edmonton in early February. Ron Fraess and Steve Penz were authorized to attend the annual water and waste water operator's conference in Banff, March 15 to 18. Office staff members Jenny Scott and June Stone were given the go-ahead to attend a Word Processing course at Lakeland College in St. Paul. The need for a policy regarding upgrading courses was discussed, and referred to Committee.

Looking forward to spring, when dusty streets emerge from their cover of snow, Council approved the purchase of a hydraulic pump necessary for operation of the Town's street sweeper. Problems with the pump which is now being replaced resulted in the streets being left unswept before winter arrived.

The Town has discovered that the purchase of 'no parking' signs for Highway 41 is their responsibility, rather than that of Alberta Transportation. The purchase of 14 signs was approved. The parking restrictions will be enforced by both the RCMP and the Town's bylaw officer.

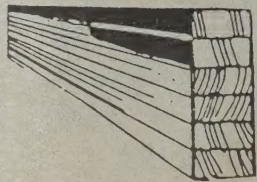

Purchase of two high pressure sodium lights for illumination of the Community Services Centre parking lot was also approved.

Invitational tenders for the Town's 1988 supply of fuel, oil and lubricants will be sent to all local suppliers, Council agreed

Landscaping costs for the nursing home addition to Elk Point Municipal Hospital will be the responsibility of the municipalities, Council was told. Consideration of the matter was referred to committee for study. Cost estimates for the landscaping will be available to the Town within a few weeks.

A request from the Elk Point Pioneer Circle for transfer of title for the drop-in centre property to the group from the Town, was agreed to by Council, who said they will sell the property to the Pioneer Circle for $1, in exchange for occasional rent-free use of the facility.

Midget hockey news

The Elk Point Windsor Midgets were invited to Provost for a game on Jan. 2, which the Provost team won 10 to 4.

They hosted Grande Centre on Sat., Jan. 9. The first period scoring was limited to one goal by Grande Centre. Two goals for each team, by Roscoe and Reinhart, from Pashulka and Anderson, for Elk Point, put the score at 3-2 at the end of the second.

In the third, Grande Centre scored early, then McLaughlin took a pass from Bates to put it at 4-3. At the 3:48 mark, Grande Centre scored again, so when the action was in the Grande Centre end, Elk Point pulled the goalie and moved in. Jenner scored, from McLaughlin, on the power play. With the score at 5-4, it looked like Elk Point might even it up but with only 46 seconds left, Grande Centre scored on the open net, making the final score 6 to 4 for Grande Centre.

The next day, Sun., Jan. 10, Elk Point travelled to Marwayne to play, and lost by the same 6-4 score. Goals by Bates, Reinhart (2), and Harms were assisted by R. Janvier, McLaughlin, Osinchuk, Roscoe, Jenner and Anderson.

Marwayne goals were scored by Miller, Franklin, Bowman, Parke, and Brown (2), assisted by Grasdall, Popowich (2), Brown, Crawford, T. Fleming, and Hines.

At the Midget Tournament in St. Paul this past weekend, Elk Point and St. Paul met on Friday at 7 p.m. The only score in the first period was by Elk Point's Reinhart, from Roscoe. There were no more goals until the same team, this time Roscoe from Reinhart, scored at the 10:37 mark of the second period.

Then in the last five minutes of the period, two St. Paul goals turned the game around to tie the score 2-2 at the end of the period. Elk Point goalie Bryce Lorenson took 22 shots, in the period compared to only 6 on the St. Paul goal.

St. Paul pulled ahead by four more goals in the third period to win the game 6 - 2. Goalie Bryce Lorenson was awarded the third star of the game.

Saturday at 10:30 a.m., Bonnyville and Elk Point met. Elk Point won the game 8-5. The three stars were: 1. Kevin Bates, 2. Bonnyville's Thackgray, and 3. Rod Janvier.

Saturday at 6 p.m., it was Elk Point and Grande Centre in the tournament. Grande Centre scored early in the period; Bates scored, assisted by Harms and Jenner, to tie it; then Grande Centre scored with 49 seconds left, to take the lead.

Four Grande Centre goals in the second period made the score 6 - 1.

In the third, Grande Centre, scored again, then a goal by Reinhart from R. Janvier gave them a little encouragement, but they were unable to hold Grande Centre, who scored with 16 seconds left in the game, to win by 8-2.

Lindsay Jenner was awarded the third star of the game.

The next Windsor Midget games on the schedule are with Mallaig at Elk Point at 6 p.m. on Jan. 23, and Vermilion at Elk Point at 6 p.m. on Jan. 30. Plans can change and other games set up. Check with one of the players or coaches, and come out to cheer on the team, and see some good hockey.

home on that day was considered a symbol of good luck. To ensure good health, cloves of garlic were placed under all four corners of the tablecloth.

The old traditions were lovingly carried out at the supper, but none with more enthusiasm than the search for treats in the hay, by a mooing, oinking, quacking crowd of children.

The meal completed, everyone enjoyed a mini-concert by the Ukrainian Dancers.

Draws for the club's raffle were made during the evening, with Linda Shmyr congratulated on selling the most tickets. First price of $300 went to Lynn Osinchuk of Derwent, while $200 went to 'The Elk Point Hunting Group' and $100 went to Eddie Zarowny.

Pioneer Circle seniors have plans for New Year

By Irene Magnusson

A general membership meeting of the Elk Point Pioneer Circle convened at the usual time of 2:00 p.m. on January 12, with around thirty persons present. President Mike Palinka opened the meeting, by calling for minutes of the December meeting.

These were read by Secretary Marg Clark. Treasurer Erika Bender then gave the financial report.

Building Committee member Morris Cooper made a report. He and others had inspected the beams under the hall, as there had been some concerns that they were rotten, and found them quite all right. He had an outline for an addition to the hall, this time on the south side, where there is room, and would offer an additional area of 30' by 90' feet (present hall is 28' x 90') and would contain two additional washrooms. A motion to proceed with next steps was carried, to obtain approval, estimates, etc. The proposal would then be brought back to the membership. This was so moved, and Copper will proceed.

The usual donation will be made by the group to TELERAMA, when that program is aired, of $100.

It was agreed that it was time to start the Shuffleboard and cribbage tournaments. Lena Kuziw and Morris Cooper will be in charge of the shuffleboard, while Mike Palinka and Helga Vaughn will handle the cribbage series. These should start soon.

Mabel Dumont, representing A.C.A., requested a nominee or volunteer to represent the area on the new Regional Board, but none were forthcoming from the group. This person need not be a senior to apply, but would be representing the interests of seniors.

Housekeeper Doris Capjack stated she was unwilling to attend to the mountains of garbage each week, so it was agreed to pay her an amount for this task.

Coming meetings, for an undetermined time, will still be on the second Tuesday of each month, but so as not to interfere with the whist games, the time of meetings will be immediately following the end of the whist games, which should be around 3:00 to 3:15 p.m. It was felt this accommodation would be better than moving either to a new date.

Next month's meeting is for Directors only, unless otherwise advised, and will be on Tuesday, February 9.

Further Education News

Hello again! Unfortunately response to Further Ed courses has been very slow. Aerobics, Salads & Garnishes, Creative Writing, Make-up Wizardry, Quilting, Sign Painting and Sewing for the Home are NOT starting at the present time. If enough interest is shown all courses could go at a later date but YOU must let me know if and when you are interested. Please check your calendar for courses you may be interested in and remember you are not registered until your fees are paid, one week prior to starting date or courses will be cancelled. This is not a new rule but it is one we now must enforce. I am sorry for any inconvenience it may cause you but these are the rules set up by the Department in Edmonton and I have no choice but to follow instructions.

Further Education Councils were first set up in 1970. In 1971-72 only the cities of Edmonton and Calgary participated. In 1972-73 rural Alberta became interested and in 1974 Elk Point established its first Further Ed Council. That year there were 14 courses offered. In 1987 there were 42 courses, an increase over the years of 28. Not all of these courses were run but all were offered. We have 21 courses scheduled for the first part of 1988. Unfortunately no one seems interested. Has Further Ed really run its course in Elk Point? Do we have to lose our Council before we appreciate what it is offering? I certainly hope not. If you are interested in courses not offered please find seven other interested adults and I will find an instructor, a time and a place. We can not help you unless we know what you want and we won't know unless you tell us.

Hopefully all the farmers in the area will come to the Information Night on "Grants and Services" to be held Wednesday, January 20 (TONIGHT) from 7:00 - 9:00 p.m. at the F.C.S.S. Gym. Please phone 724-4101 to pre-register for this course. There is no charge for the course but we would like to know how many people will be attending. This course is open to anyone in farming so bring your spouses along. Coffee will be available. Another Agriculture course called "What's Happening with My Farm?" will be offered on February 3, same time and same place with Jim Unterschultz, Regional Farm Economist with Alberta Agriculture. Please pre-register by calling 724-4101 or 645-2540. The office is open from 1:00 - 5:00 p.m. on Wednesdays and from 1:00 - 7:00 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays. I can be reached at 645-2540 at any other time or leave a message. Please call.

Breaking free

Butt it out. Kick the habit. Time to quit. This is the day you will hear all these remarks: it's Weedless Wednesday.

Easier said than done, isn't it?

Some people find quitting smoking is easy to do--they've done it hundreds of times. Their trouble lies in staying quit, when the temptation is so strong to take just one more puff.

Over two million Canadians have succeeded in putting their smoking days behind them for an extended period of time. One cannot say 'forever', because the future is impossible to predict.

Why do people smoke? For some, it's a pick-me-up, while for others it's a means of relaxation. About two thirds of smokers say they get pleasure from smoking, while half say it also reduces tension and uncomfortable feelings. Many more say it gives them something to do with their hands. It's a craving. It's a habit.

Many say they are afraid to quit because of the side effects: weight change, tension, restlessness, and irregular sleep. Some of those who quit experience these to a greater or lesser degree, others experience some or none of them.

People who do quit, quit for various reasons: they fear for their health or the health of their families, they find it's too expensive, they discover it's not as glamorous to smoke as they thought it was at age 15. They may be influenced by the growing social unacceptability of the habit, and by the fact that many businesses and public buildings are now off-limits to smokers.

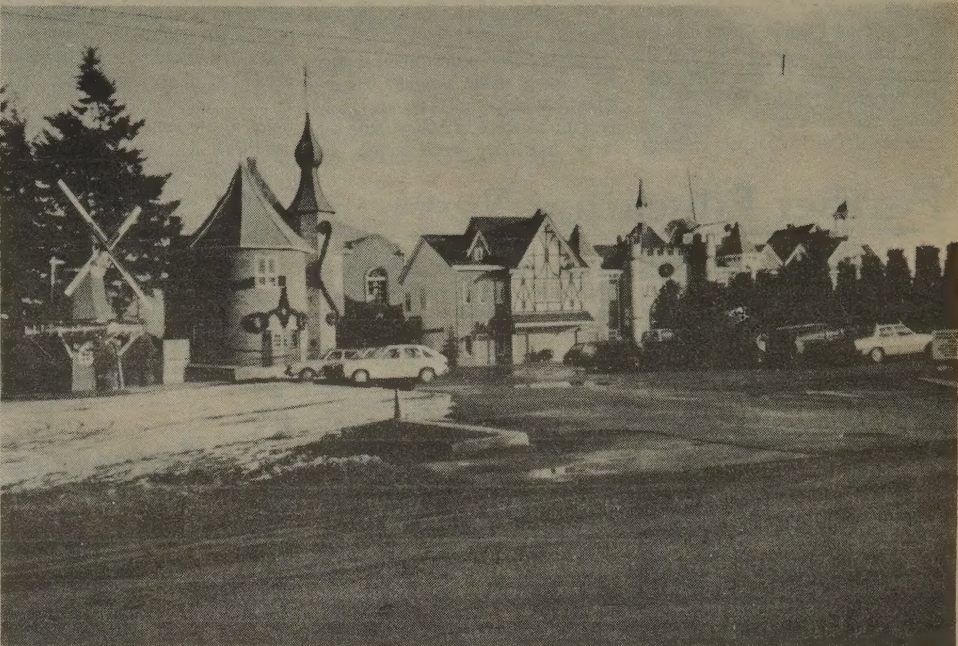

If these people really want to quit, if they have the willpower to carry out their intention, they may be successful. If they have been talked into it by others--parents, spouse, friends, whoever--and don't really, deep-down WANT to quit, their efforts to do so may not work. If it does work, they will no doubt be glad they made the effort.

The very best of luck to all those who have designated today, Weedless Wednesday, January 20, 1988, as 'Quit Day'. The world will become a better place to breathe because of you.

But please, don't anyone out there suggest that we all stop drinking coffee...

Out our way

By Mildred Dunham
With Christmas all over with, the small communities are back playing cards to turn away the winter blues. The cribbage tournaments are well underway, as well as the Ferguson Flats whist drives. The first whist drive was Saturday night, the next will be Saturday, January 23, and every two weeks from then until about the end of March. So, if you feel lucky, come out and join the fun.
Dennis Heffernan and Jimmy Bodnar went on a trip to Vancouver during the Grey Cup weekend. Marge Heffernan spent the week visiting relatives in Edmonton.
Visitors to Primrose during Christmas were the Heffernan sons and daughters with their families, Billy and Glen Dunham and Ray and Ruth Bybank of Westlock. The Tilleyes had a few relatives drop over on the weekend to go skidoing.
Warren Tilley was pleased with his marks for his final year of Heavy Duty Mechanics, completed at Olds just before Christmas.

Alberta Trails

Christmas on the Island

by Irene Magnusson

This is not the first time I spent Christmas in B.C. Three years ago I had the pleasure of spending three weeks in Coquitlam, mostly with my son. That year there was a great snowfall, of about 20 inches, especially heavy in the higher areas, where he lived. So I know it can snow out there.

Admittedly, it was not overly cold, and we still went wherever we wished. That was the year I learned that sneakers are considered good winter footwear by the natives - well, many of them. So that is what I took this December with me, and that is indeed the only winter footwear I needed. I even got safely back home with nothing more.

So I did not pack my winter boots, nor yet my heavy long coat, and managed very well with jacket and heavy sneakers and was still overladen. As usual, I took stuff I never wore, also a few gifts were packed along, and having got rid of those, their space was filled with twice as many given to me. It's hard to win.

Arriving in Richmond, I found there had been a light dusting of snow the day earlier, but that soon went off. The grass was green and the water flowed in the drain ditch. Having a bit of time and an urge to walk around, I went to a little park, with slides and swings and things for kids to play on. Not a soul in sight, yet if not for the chill in the air, it looked like summer, it was so green underfoot.

Along a fence, as I circled the block, was a lovely holly bush, about eight feet high, rich with berries. Ah, thanks I, already beginning to look like Christmas.

The next day, with my folks not working, we drove here and there, to shop, to look. One of our stops was at the Vander Zalm Fantasy Gardens. We didn't go in, as there was not enough time, but drove around the parking lot, and I snapped a few pictures. It is certainly an interesting exterior, so assume the interior is also attractive.

We looked at the river where my brother works, and the large mall where they shop, crossed the bridges that separate Richmond from the rest of Vancouver - and which you'd never notice if someone didn't tell you. My brother lives on the small area of habitation on Sea Island, where the Airport is situated. So we had lots of aircraft serenade when we went outside - but didn't notice when in the house.

The flight from Vancouver to Port Hardy (in a much smaller plane) takes about the same time as from Edmonton to Vancouver - an hour and twenty minutes. My sister met me, and we drove back down island the 30 or so miles to Port McNeill, where we had supper while awaiting the ferry to take us across to her home on Malcolm Island.

Sointula, the only town, has "POP. 500" on a large sign near the wharf, but they assure me there are more people than that, they just haven't got around to changing the sign. But my guess is not many more.

As we came in across the straits, we saw the place was ablaze with Christmas lights, all along the hills on which the inhabitants have perched their homes, the glow was brilliant. Perhaps the most spectacular single display was at Port McNeill, a large town, where we had awaited the ferry. Here they had strung a dozen long rows of lights to a tall (very tall) tower or pole, and topped it with a giant star, possible to warn aircraft, but it certainly made a spectacular Christmas star and streamers, hanging high over the harbor, reflecting in the water.

On a later evening, we drove all around the town, admiring the many Christmassy scenes. I took a few pictures of the brightest ones, buy my photo-finisher decided I didn't know what I wanted and so has seen fit not to develop them. I may try elsewhere.

They had waited until I came to get the Christmas tree, so off we went along the shore street, which soon turned into a narrow, but paved, trail, wandering up over hill and dale.

This was a logging road, but logging is only going on in one place now on the island, with good reason, for most of the trees have been cut down long since, so we were in no danger of meeting a huge logging truck.

There are trees, young and fresh, emerging from the stumps and slash, and we found a grove of these, not too large. There are pines, spruce, hemlock, cedar, alders, and more. We decided we would have a pine. These were thicker than the jackpine around here, and very attractive. After a few stops and rejections, we selected one with a twin stem, making it very thick, about seven feet tall, and Eric, my brother-in-law cut it off. Meanwhile, Virginia and I gathered a bouquet of greenery, sprigs of salal, cedar, some ferns, to decorate the house with. Surprising even to my sister, the salal had buds and a few pink flowers coming out, not usual until much closer to spring.

After putting the tree into the van, we drove on for an hour or so, past a gravel pit, with patches red with shotgun cartridges, where someone had engaged in target practice, and down nearer the shore. Here we walked a ways, down to the water, among the huge driftwood, long coils of kelp, looking like snakes, under our feet. Earlier, in the fall, Virginia told me, she had gathered mountains of kelp, scattering it over her garden, to decay and be worked in the spring, for fertilizer.

The tide was low, and showed us a huge iron wheel protruding from the waves, some discarded logging equipment, Eric said.

Back home, Eric found a stand for the tree, which he had made long since, from a heavy burl, a hole drilled for a watering jar. Virginia brought her boxes of ornaments, and we decorated the tree.

Later, we put up the cedar along the staircase, and I filled the windowledge with salal and ferns. Virginia wanted to create an arrangement for her daughter, needed more salal, so Eric went to bring some from above the roadway, where there is a hillside rising up. I went along to help carry it. Here we found a wild holly tree, about four feet high, no berries on it, but holly for her wreath. A few rods further along, there is a little stream trickling down, into the ditch.

There was no snow, and only a few snow showers fell while I was there, but they are used to a 'green' Christmas.

On Christmas day, and other times while I was there, I walked along the beach below my sister's house, and picked shells, and watched the loons and gulls out there fishing. Once we saw a long-necked blue heron wading in the shallows.

Almost any day one could spot a bald eagle, lots of crows, perhaps a robin, sparrows and other small birds. I regretted not taking my bird book along. One day we saw a mink running along over the rocks.

On the three evenings before Christmas, when the tide was low, about 11 p.m., Eric went down to the beach, in high rubbers, with flashlight and a garden rake, and raked crabs out of the shallows, which he cooked next day, picked the meat from the shells, and tried to feed some to me, but I found it sort of tasteless. They all loved it, so I let them have my share.

at the Library

In answer to the question "Will there be a musical cassette library?" The answer is "yes!"

On February 13 at the FCSS gym, a youth Valentine dance will be held to raise the additional funds needed to purchase as many as 200 musical cassettes. Midnight supper, spot dances and contests including prizes are just a few reasons our young people should come out and help support this new addition to our library. Roses will be on sale for those who have a special someone and much more.

We are looking forward to starting a comic book exchange and for those of you who have doubles or would consider donating a part of your collection, we need good to excellent comic books (with covers) and would appreciate your donations toward this new service.

Although our library is looking at some very serious cutbacks we are working on some new youth, adult and senior programs. We realize the very important role our library and

Clandonald News

By Shirley Osinchuk

On Saturday, Jan. 9, Mike and Carol Logan were having a game of cribbage, when Carol turned over three fives and the Jack of spades. Was she cool, calmly waiting for the cut? We aren't sure, but when the five of spades was cut ...

Mike took her picture, showing the "29 hand" and grinning the biggest grin.

My compliments to the salespeople in Vermilion and Elk Point, who try very hard to be helpful and cheerful with their customers, going out of their way to help customers find what they need, and get the best price. One, in particular, was Sandra, in the Vermilion Co-op.

On Thursday, the Clandonald Junior High girls travelled to Kitscoty after school to play basketball. It was their first game of the season, and Clandonald won 20 - 15.

The regular Fish and Game meeting will be held on Thursday, Jan. 21 at the Clandonald Hall.

Family Night is planned at the Bible Fellowship Church on Sunday, Jan. 24, at 7 p.m. Special guests will be Ron and Audrey Ford who will tell about their work with Continental Missions. Everyone is welcome. Stay for refreshments afterwards.

Dates have been set for curling bonspiels in Clandonald: Farmers' - Jan. 27 to 31; Ladies' - Feb. 3 to 7, Men's - Feb. 10 to 14 (tentative), Mixed - Feb. 17 to 21.

This is Winter Carnival time in Clandonald. Start the fun on Friday by having the Students' Council judge your snow sculpture. You can create alone or with a group. Just call Marie Lawrence to let her know you are entering. Winners will be announced at the Dimetime Carnival that evening.

There is also time this week to challenge another family to a game of any sort. Play off your game and enter the names of both families in a draw for dinner for four at Kentucky Fried Chicken. Judy Carter will accept entries until 8 p.m. on Friday.

At 7 p.m. on Friday the Dimetime Carnival begins. Fun and games for a dime each, and a concession for refreshments, until 9 p.m.

Then home and early to bed because Saturday will be a very busy day.

Pancake Brunch will be served at the hall from 10 a.m. till 12 noon. Go from there "downtown" to take part in free skating, races, games, sponsored by the Ag. Society at the arena. They will be serving hot chocolate and doughnuts.

You might like to take a sleigh ride around town behind a team of horses, complete with sleigh bells.

If indoors is your place, there will be bingo in the Friendship Centre from 1 to 4 p.m. The seniors will have a Tea Room open for coffee, tea and squares, with all proceeds going to the trip to Quebec Fund.

The Family Funspiel will be going on in the curling rink. Call Anne Etherington at 853-2188 to sign on your family or "family" rink.

After all those activities, you will be very hungry, so bring a pot of your favorite food to the potluck supper at the hall at 5 p.m. The 4-H clubs will supply coffee, plates and utensils.

The last event of the weekend could be the most entertaining. The Grade 9 class will sponsor the Talent Show, with the Fish and Game Club helping to sponsor trophies. If you have decided that you do not have a talent to share, come and cheer on your favorite act - single, group or comedy. The low admission charge will go towards the trip to Quebec.

All the community clubs are involved in the carnival. The hope is that families will have fun together, for very little cost.

What a weekend! See you in Clandonald!

Dewberry News

By Phyllis Ewen

The Dewberry Hotel owners, Dave, Ed and Edna Flowers have leased out their cafe to Bobby Chang, effective Dec. 5, 1987. The cafe is open seven days a week with an excellent Chinese and Western cuisine menu. Take-out orders are also available.

Ralph and Fernande Braithwaite were in Reno for Christmas. The morning of December 26, 1987, Fernande passed away in her sleep at the age of 75 years. Many friends and relatives attended the memorial service in Burnaby, B.C. where they lived. Don and Joyce Braithwaite motored out, accompanied by Fred and Elsie Braithwaite who were visiting in Lloydminster at the time, to attend the service. Sympathy goes out to Ralph on the sudden passing of his wife and to Ralph's brothers Joe, Fred, Don and Milton and families.

Clayton Elliott flew to Denver, Colorado, on January 13, 1988. Clayton will be helping with the grooming and showing of a carload of bulls at the Denver Stock Show. Before leaving Edmonton he visited Stan Garnier in the Royal Alexander Hospital. A speedy recovery is wished to Stan, who underwent back surgery.

Friends of the late William Cavil of Dewberry who passed away October, 1983, may be interested to know that his sister Jessie of Toronto, Ontario, passed away January 9, 1988. Jessie would have been 96 years old in February. She was living in her own apartment until early in December when she fell and broke her ankle, causing her to be hospitalized, where she died.

Darlene Ruff, Harvey Bowman's daughter, split the $9000.00 jackpot at the bingo in Lloydminster recently. Lucky you!

Mrs. Laura Riemer passed away in the Vermilion Health Care Complex on January 9, 1988 at the age of 93 years. Rev. Shoop, former Pastor and very close friend of Mrs. Riemer's, returned from High Level to take the service. Mrs. Riemer was predeceased by her husband Andrew in December, 1982. Sympathy is extended to her daughters - Muriel from Ottawa, Caroline from Wisconsin, and Luella from Wetaskwin, and son David from Ottawa and their families.

Congratulations to Mr. & Mrs.

Garnet Sutton, nee Vivian Oneschuk, on the arrival of their baby girl, Nicole, born January 1, 1988. A sister for Scott and Aaron.

Eastalta Co-op manager Ron Walker has been transferred to Vermilion and completed his last day as manager in Dewberry on January 4,
